Pleasanton council can't agree on sewage capacity

PLEASANTON - Concerned with Pleasanton's image as "growth-oriented", the Pleasanton City Council representative to the valley's water agency attempted to reduce the city's estimated sewer needs.

The council consensus, however, was to stick with the projected 12.2 million gallons a day (mgd) by the end of the century.

At the July 8 Livermore Amador Water Valley Management Agency (LAVWMA) meeting, representatives of Pleasanton, Livermore and the Valley Community Services District will be asked to report their projected needs.

That information will help LAVWMA decide how large its water management facility will have to be.

LAVWMA was formed, under prodding from state and regional water agencies, to devise a water management plan for the valley that will eliminate effluent discharge into the Alameda Creek. The plan connot be formulated until it is known how much effluent there will be.

The most probable project is a pipeline that will connect to a mammoth tube being constructed by the East Bay Dischargers' Authority.

Council members Joyce LeClaire and Bob Philcox favored a reduction in the city's projected needs to something that is "more realistic".

Philcox said "If we make that kind of presentation," referring to projected needs of 8.8 mgd by 1987 and 12.2 mgd by 1997, "we are going to look foolish in light of the realities and the environmental restraints."

While other members of the council could appreciate Philcox' point of view, they felt the projected needs were justified because they are based on the city's revised general plan.

"I think it is a justifiable position" said Mayor Ed Kinney. "And" he added "we know it's going to be scaled down anyway."

Councilman Roger McLain said he was getting concerned "about being led by the general plan I hate to get saddled with a number."

The revised general plan estimates an ultimate municipal population of 76,000

The projected figures include all of the outstanding commitments the city has acquired. Assistant City Manager Al Campbell said the presentation could include a lower figure but that lower figure would not take care of all the commitments.

Because the council could not pick an arbitrary figure lower than the projections, they agreed to stick with the staff report although they obviously had misgivings about it.

Two Dublin structures

Buildings get green light

DUBLIN - Alameda County Zoning Administrator Dick Flynn last week gave the green light to a proposed 16,000-square foot office building for the south corner of Village Parkway and Dublin Boulevard, but the contract for construction of the two-story office building has been snagged for lack of a sewer connection permit.

PM Draftsmen, Inc., now located on Silvergate Drive, wants to build a $380,000 engineering center that would house other related firms.

Valley Community Services District, however, cannot grant the sewer hookup until aleaky line in North Pleasanton is repaired.

"They (VCSD) told us to come down June 1 (for the permit), but then they said they had no idea when it would be issued," Vice President John Linn said.

The permit had been promised "a long time ago," he said, adding his firm will "keep calling" until they get the permit.

PM Draftsmen, which produces detail drawings in structural steel fabrication, will build a complex simlar to their company's Salt Lake City,Utah, center.

"We want to get design people of all types into the building" to share costs he said.

Occupants would interchange services with each other and share the costs of supportive services.

PM Draftsmen would occupy the second floor and lease space below.

While no tennants have been found, the firm has been negotiating with prospective occupants and has no fears of filling the space.

The firm presently employs 15 people in a "very crowded space," according to Linn, and will expand to about 25 after the move.

The company has provided detail drawings for the new Hayward Hall of Justice, a community center in Modesto, a research building at Stanford University and highway bridges in Utah.

VCSD must plug the leak to preclude exceeding the maximum allowable level of salt discharges into the Alameda Creek before it can issue new permits.

While previous attempts have failed, the district believes the problem will be solved soon.

City employes may reject 8 percent pay increase

PLEASANTON - The more than 100 members of the Pleasanton City Employees Association will meet today to decide whether to accept or reject the city's wage offer.

Sources close to the negotiations report the PCEA leadership is recommending rejection of the 8 percent pay increase offered by the city.

Deadline for approving a new contract is June 30.

The employees would like a 12 percent increase, which they contend covers the increase in the cost of living. Anything less, they say, would result in a net reduction in pay.

What particularly irritates city employees is the city's proposal of a two-year contract — with an 8 percent increase this year and an increase next year that would amount to 50 percent of the cost of living increase.

The city contends there is not sufficient money in the budget for more than an 8 percent increase, while the PCEA maintains the money is there for a 12 percent hike.

The city has hired a professional negotiator this year who has been meeting with the PCEA since April 15.

If the membership votes to reject the city offer, the PCEA will likely take its case to the city council.

Two percent growth

General Plan reviewed

LIVERMORE - The city's growth rate should not exceed 2 percent over the next five years, members of the city council and planning commission informed their General Plan consultants last week.

City officials, conferring with each other and consultants Grunwald, Crawford & Associates, reviewed the goals and policies put forth by the consultants in three task reports.

Studied — and often modified — were the reports on population-economic analysis and projections; housing, and environmental resource management. A fourth report on transportation recently has been completed and all will be incorporated, with the city's recommended changes, in the General Plan.

Major changes in the housing element task report include the city's opposition to utilizing mobile homes as a means of low-cost housing and its encouragement of a plan whereby one house in 10 be given for low-income housing.

Despite disagreement by the consultants, city officials do not believe mobile homes provide low-income housing. Loans for such purchases must be repaid at rates higher than consumers would pay on a regular mortgage, councilmen and commissioners have pointed out.

A one-in-ten low-income housing plan was advocated by Councilman Don Miller, who noted that the Ramapo plan, which followed those guidelines, was upheld by the New York State Supreme Court and in effect by the U.S. Supreme Court when it refused to hear the case.

The consultants agreed to study such a plan but advised the city against naming a particular plan. To do so would to put Livermore in a "straight-jacket," they said.

They also decided to further research mobile homes in the hopes of convincing city officials such use would be valuable for low-income housing.

Concern for the preservation of agricultural land was expressed by the city in reviewing the environmental resources management report.

Land not considered valuable for farming today may become essential as soon as five years as a result of the potential population explosion and food shortage, was the concern of planning commissioner Glen Dahlbacka. City officials agreed.

They also were in agreement with Councilwoman Helen Tirsell's questioning the value of quarries as a local resource. "I see it as a major destruction of the area," she said.

The consultants pointed out the quarries were of state interest and related to schemes larger than the Livermore area alone.

City officials will study the transportation task report with the consultants July 10.

For young and old

City gets two federal grants

PLEASANTON - The city has received nearly $18,000 in federal grants to help both the aged and the young.

The Alameda County Board of Supervisors has approved a $14,000 grant to supplement the city's mini-bus service for the elderly.

The bus was provided by the Pleasanton Junior Women's Club through proceeds from the Mardi Gras ball. Until the grant was approved, however, the city did not have sufficient funds to pay bus drivers and most of the driving was done by volunteers.

Current mini-bus hours are 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. Monday through Thursday. With the grant, those hours will be expanded to 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday through Friday with seven-day, 24-hour emergency service.

The remaining $4,000 received by the city is part of the Summer Youth Recreation Program signed into law last week by President Gerald Ford.

The $4,000 is a share of the more than $30,000 that was allocated to Southern Alameda County.

Pleasanton will use its funds for an eight-week multi-activitiy program for youths at Komandorski Village.

The program will include transporation for Komandorski youngsters to the West Wind Youth Center and the Aquatic Center on Thursdays and Fridays. Excursions are planned for Tuesdays and movies will be shown Wednesday nights at Komandorski's main hall.

Four groups to gather

Joint boards meet tonight

PLEASANTON- A rare joint school boards meeting is set tonight at the District Education Center, 123 Main St., to review graduation requirements, curriculum articulation at all levels and tutorial programs.

Participating will be trustees of the Amador, Sunol, Murray and Pleasanton districts. They'll convene at 7:30 p.m.

At 7, the Amador Valley Joint High School District board will act on adopting the certificated salary schedule for 1975-76, the school calendar and act on approving school plans for categorical aid.

At 9 p.m., the Pleasanton school board will meet to consider a contract for reroofing Valley View and Pleasanton Elementary Schools. They will also act to withdraw from the County Workmen's Compensation contract and conshder disposing of equipment termed obsolete.

An executive session, to do with budgetary matters, will follow.

Dr. Long vs. Pleasanton

Tract map issue back in court

Dr. Howard Long and the City of Pleasanton will be back in court again Monday over the city's refusal to accept Long's tentative tract map.

The complex issue is unlikely to be decided Monday because City Attorney Ken Scheidig has filed a second demurrer, contending Long's petition "does not state facts sufficient to authorize the relief sought."

Scheidig's first demurrer was granted by an Alameda County Superior Court last month. Long's attorney, Gil Maines, then amended his petition which seeks to force the city to accept the tract map.

If the second demurrer is granted, Maines will have to amend the petition once again before the case goes to trial.

The city contends it could not accept the tract map for the remaining 10 lots in the hillside Longview subdivision because the required Environmental Impact Report was not completed and because the private roads were not in conformance with the city's ordinances.

Long claims the remaining work on the EIR has not been completed because the city refuses to complete it.

Fusion Lab honored as 'Lab of the Year'

The Lawrence Livermore Laboratory's Laser Fusion Lab was honored yesterday in ceremonies at LLL as the Industrial Research Magazine Laboratory of the Year.

Calling the building "the best possible marriage of aesthetics and practicality", Robert Jones of the magazine presented Carl Haussmann of LLL and Norman Fink of Norman Engineering with impressive plaques in honor of the occasion.

The Kaiser Aluminum Center for Technology in Pleasanton won the same award in 1970.

The brief ceremony was followed by a tour of the new building, which is the first of a large complex of buildings that will be used to determine if laser fusion is practical for commercial power plants.

The first step in that long road to laser fusion as a commercial power source was recently taken at LLL, when researchers produced a large flow of neutrons — indicating that fusion took place — after bombarding a target with lasers.

Fusion is a process similar to that which goes on in the sun. Two atoms combine and produce energy.

In fission, which is used in all reactors now in operation, atoms are split and release energy. Fusion is a much cleaner process and its fuel is deuterium, an isotope of hydrogen that is plentiful in the ocean.

If a practical method of producing fusion can be found (laser fusion is not the only method), the world's energy problems would be basically solved.

However, the steps between the production of neutrons in the lab and the production of power on a large scale and many and complex. The most optimistic guesses place the first nuclear fusion plant on line around the year 2000.

If that prediction comes true, much of the preliminary work will have been done in Livermore, and perhaps the most innovative program at the Lab is the laser fusion project.

Although the laser at the Lab now — called Cyclops — has only one beam, soon Janus — with two beams — will be ready to go. By Christmas, Argus should be on line and by the middle of next year all four arms of Argus should be firing.

Eventually, Shiva — named for the Indian goddess who had as many arms as necessary to do a job — will be set up and the 20 laser beams produced will have a peak output greater than the total power output of the United States.

The catch is that the power — one trillion watts, or a terawatt — will be released in 100 picoseconds, a span of time so short that even light cannot travel far. To be able to use that much power, it must somehow be stored, and the Laser Fusion Laboratory will have the largest capacitor bank in the world for the laser to draw on.

The size of the laser beam will exceed 10 inches and there will be 20 such beams focused on a minuscule target. Nhen the beams are fired, they will all arrive at the target at the same time from different directions. The material in the target will be imploded and forced together by the lasers, eventually fusing with other atoms and producing energy.

In a power plant, the lasers would fire repeatedly, but in the research setup planned for the Lab, the lasers will only be able to fire once every 20 minutes.

Although this limitation would render a commercial power plant useless, it will have no effect on the research value of the Shiva laser.

Although the award from Industrial Research magazine will not materially affect the progress of the research, it does indicate how important laser fusion is to the nation's energy future.

Two years ago, laser fusion research at LLL barely existed. Now it has an award winning lab building and another building — to house Shiva — under construction.

Haussman accepted the plaque from the magazine with pleasure but added "We are also enthusiastic — to say the least — about the work we are doing."

Regional transit recommended

Planners study task report

LIVERMORE - The transportation-circulation task report recently issued by the city's General Plan consultants will be one of three topics of discussion at a planning commission study session tonight.

Other subjects scheduled for planning commission consideration when it meets at 7:30 p.m. in the Municipal Court Chambers, 39 S. Livermore Ave., are proposed amendments to the design review committee ordinance and to the specific plan for the Springtown area.

The task report issued by consultants Grunwald, Crawford & Associates on transportation and circulation will be discussed by commissioners tonight and again on July 10 in conjunction with the city council and the consultants.

Copies of the report are available to the public in the Livermore Library, 1000 S. Livermore Ave., both at the reference desk and at the check-out counter.

Some of the policies recommended by the consultants in the report for the city's streets and highways are that local and regional transit systems be given equal priority to private automobiles in future street system development and that Livermore, in a joint effort with Alameda County, should try to acquire the remaining required right-of-way for the realignment of State Hwy. 84 along Isabel Avenue to its eventual interchange with I-580.

Also recommended is the expansion of railroad transportation facilities and services to meet the needs of industrial growth as well as the expansion of the municipal airport in accordance with the general plan under study for that city-owned operation.

Another idea advanced in the report is the establishment of a transportation center located near the airport at the interchange of I-580 and the future Hwy. 84 (Isabel Avenue). The center would be linked with a local public transit system.

The need for a trailway system to accommodate bicyclists and the extention of a BART line to the valley also are dealt with in the text of the report.

The transportation-circulation report and other task reports — along with modifications, deletions and additions initiated by city council members and planning commissioners — will be incorporated into Livermore's General Plan. That plan is expected to be issued by the fall and will be subject to city review before adoption.

Mid-August break

Trustees get a vacation

LIVERMORE - The mid - August meeting of the school board will be skipped this summer, giving trustees a brief "vacation."

They'll plug along with two meetings a month, however, thanks to several special budget sessions.

Meetings take place in the Livermore Unified School District's Education Center, the orange-and-brown administration building located on the corner of Murrieta and Las Positas Boulevards.

The summer schedule is:

June 24, special meeting to adopt the tentative budget. July 1, regular meeting. July 15, regular meeting including approval of Publication Budget.

Aug. 5, regular meeting including hearing on Publication Budget. Aug. 7, special meeting for formal adoption of 1975-76 budget.

Sept 2, Sept. 16, regular meetings.

All meetings begin at 7:30 p.m. and are held on Tuesdays except for the Aug 7 date, which is a Thursday.

The first day of school in September comes early this year — Tuesday, Sept. 2, teachers will be back in their rooms and Wednesday, Sept. 3, will be opening day for students.

Three valley students win Chance memorial

LIVERMORE - An essay on "What America Means to Me," plus plans for continuing education, were the touchstones for selection of three local students to receive the Eldred Chance Memorial Award.

The award in memoriam of the late school board president and civic leader Eldred Chance was established by his family.

Terry Ann Cole and Scott Arthur Thomas of Livermore High, and David Lee Pefley of Granada High, were presented recently with engraved plaques that said: "Presented to...whose actions and deeds have shown love and appreciation for the American way of life and whose fidelity has shown the basic qualities that have made America The Greatest Country on Earth."

Employe awarded

Valley Memorial Hospital Administrator Tom Andrews (right) presents a plaque to "Employe of the Year" Jim Maxwell, an orderly at the hospital for six years. Maxwell also received a $100 check. Five and ten year pins were awarded to 44 hospital employes during the ceremonies.

Making hay supplements funds

District leases field

LIVERMORE - "That's hay growing outside your office window," science teacher Bob Hansen assured his boss.

"Ridiculous!" scoffed Jack Waggoner, director of elementary education. "Impossible!"

They were at a party. Placed a small wager, went down to the Education Center where all the top administrators have their offices overlooking a large, district-owned field.

Sure enough. Oats and barley, browning in the hot sun.

Every spring when the field gets disced, in preparation for planting, word gets out that the district may at last install a lawn out there in that dusty expanse between Murrietta and Las Positas Boulevards.

At the corners of the field are Rancho Las Positas elementary school, which is due for some major expansion soon; the small Del Valle Continuation School; and the two-year-old Education Center, which houses the district's administrative offices, computer, print shop and centralized library of books, films and records.

Next to the Education Center will soon be appearing an auxiliary office building. It will be headquarters for the district's builders and planners when the building program gets into full swing.

Besides those buildings, there are about 39 acres of hay.

It may not be the most dignified landscaping, but it is practical. Every year, local ranchers bid on a lease. This year, George Cardoza, a third-generation Valley rancher, won the lease with his offer of $8 per acre.

Last year, Cardoza planted barley on the land. This year, there's some barley and some oats.

It's not just the $320 a year that helps the district, but the fact that the rancher is responsible for keeping down weeds in accordance with fire rules.

"If he didn't do it, the district would have to pay to have it done," points out Mrs. Ruth Taylor of the facilities office.

While hay is being baled on Las Positas Boulevard, a few blocks away horses are grazing on more school district land.

There are 10 acres on Olivina Avenue being leased for $50 a year by Clyde Martin and Associates. "They put up their own fence and they have to bring in water for the horses;" Mrs. Taylor reports. "And they're responsible for weed control, which saves us money."

In the $20 million budget which is to be adopted tonight at a school board meeting, the small economies of leasing out farmland may hardly seem to make a difference.

But any classroom teacher translating it into records and colored paper and books, can agree that making hay while the sun shines is a good idea.

Downtown development discussed

PLEASANTON - The future development of the downtown will be among the items to be discussed at tonight's special planning commission meeting.

Other items on the agenda include a review of the city's home occupation policy, a review of downtown signing and organization of planning commission committees.

The commission will also consider Pacific Gas and Electric Company's request for consideration of a substation site and transmission line location.

That transmission line was first brought before the commission in December of last year but, because the city had felt PG&E officials had not sufficiently studied alternative routes, the matter indefinitely continued.

PG&E officials now have completed a study of the alternatives and are asking the commission to approve the proposed substation site on Stanley Boulevard and to approve the line route.

The commission meeting will begin at 8 p.m. tonight at the Pleasanton Justice Court, 30 West Angela St.

Mori vote changes on marijuana

SACRAMENTO — Assemblyman Floyd Mori announced Monday he is reversing his position and will vote in favor of legislation to decriminalize the use of marijuana.

The bill, SB 95, was approved by the State Senate in March but was narrowly defeated by a 37-36 vote in the Assembly, with Mori voting against passage.

The measure will come up before the Assembly again this morning and Mori's reversal is seen as improving the bill's chances for passage.

A total of 41 yes votes are needed to approve the legislation, which then must be signed by the governor before it becomes law.

Mori said his decision to vote yes of the bill, which is consistent with his pre - election pledge, is based on his belief that "the simple possession of marijuana does not warrant a jail sentence and that it is my feeling ... preventive laws cannot govern the morality of our society."

Mori added his original opposition was based on several concerns. "First and foremost was my fear of the detrimental effect of decriminialization upon the young people in our communities — your children and my children — who are exposed to a great deal of emotional stress and peer pressure."

He continued, "I was concerned that SB 95 did not stress severe penalties for making marijuana and other drugs available to minors. Secondly," Mori said, "I was concerned that we would, in effect be encouraging increased usage of marijuana. There is still much controversy as to whether ... excessive use of marijuana is detrimental to health. I, personally, subscribe to the idea that it may often precede excessive use of other more harmful drugs."

Mori added, however, that he has "since noted the penalties for selling or providing drugs, including marijuana, to minors are stringent, indeed. SB 95 does not alter this section of the code.

"I question the efficacy of attempting to legislate that which is good versus that which society feels is bad," the freshman legislator said. "Morality is something that must be taught by families, by parents. And it seems to me that in too many areas today parents are shirking their responsibilities upon one level of government or the other."

Mori said he has "looked at the law in relationship to other personal principles that have governed my life: that of abstinence of alcohol in any form, tea, tobacco and coffee, along with drugs." Mori, a Mormon, added, "I could not justify a jail sentence to anyone that drinks tea or coffee, smokes a cigarette, or has a drink in the confines of his own home... I would find it incongruous that the personal use of marijuana would warrant a jail sentence."

Mori added, "The answer to drug abuse is to teach correct principles regarding drugs. With this in mind, I will work for legislation to develop a drug education and abuse prevention program in the public schools."

Mori also noted, "The largest criticism of present law is in the area of enforcement. The law is considered unjust by many in the field of law enforcement and in the judiciary. Thus, enforcement of the laws is inconsistent and does not effectively deter usage of marijuana.

"Justice simply cannot be served under the present law," Mori added. "SB 95 will be a step toward fitting the punishment to the crime and providing for more effective enforcement."

'Vintner's museum'

Villa plans expansion

PLEASANTON - Villa Armando Winery today announced plans for the addition of a specialty restaurant, garden area and "vintner's museum" on a St. Street parcel close by that winery.

"We see it as an exciting addition to Pleasanton's dream of becoming a gourmet and boutique center for the East Bay," explained Walter Wood, western sales manager for Villa Armando. To be called "The Villa," the total development will offer "gourmet dining that will tie in with a wide variety of wines, a garden setting for outdoor events coupled with a display of early-day wine presses and select planting of most California grape stocks," Wood explained.

Measuring 105 feet on St. John Street and extending 400 feet back to the Arroyo del Valle, the property has a common fence line with the Pleasanton Hotel. "This suggests the opportunity to allow visitors to move between the winery, the hotel and the Cheese Factory ... the start of a total dining and shopping experience that could be unique in all of the East Bay," Wood believes.

Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Scotto, owners of Villa Armando, are "both groumet cooks, and they will lend their talents to the The Villa's menu," Wood said. Plans have already been firmed up for a series of art shows and tastings at the Villa Armando's tasting room, the first of which is this weekend, featuring Pleasanton scenes by Joe Stiles and ceramics by local residents.

Completion of "The Villa" indoor and outdoor areas is expected by mid summer. Parking is already available within the winery's grounds and only foot traffic will be permitted into the garden setting, Wood said. The plan goes before the Pleasanton Planning Commission on July 9.

Jeffrey Bear gains Navy promotion

$7,000 theft reported from Pleasanton lot

PLEASANTON - A $7,000 speed boat and trailer were reported stolen during the weekend from the 1326 Hopyard Rd. apartment parking lot of Henry Taylor-Weber, according to police reports.

The 16-foot, 130-hp powered inboard boat is registered to Henry Holman, 589 Tyler St., Livermore.

Taylor-Weber told police the yellow and metal-flake-gold boat was chained to his parking stall at the apartment. Thieves apparently used bolt cutters to sever the locks and towed away the 1975 Tahiti 16SK.

The investigation is continuing.

In Livermore James R. Alvarez, 21, apparently aborted a would-be burglar when he stepped out to his 3819 East Ave. parking stall.

Alvarez told police he noticed a young man standing near his car, but didn't pay attention to him until he heard his car door slam.

The youth, described as 18-or 19-years old, six-feet tall, with brown hair and wearing a dark stripped T-shirt and blue cord pants, ran west on East Ave.

Alvarez found one of his car's stereo speakers and some tapes over a nearby fence.

He believes the youth slipped a coat hanger through a door window left slightly open for ventilation .

Meanwhile, a thief "who isn't afraid of two dobermans" climbed a fence at the 187 N. L St., Livermore, Arrow Rentals, Saturday, and stole some $331.50 in tools.

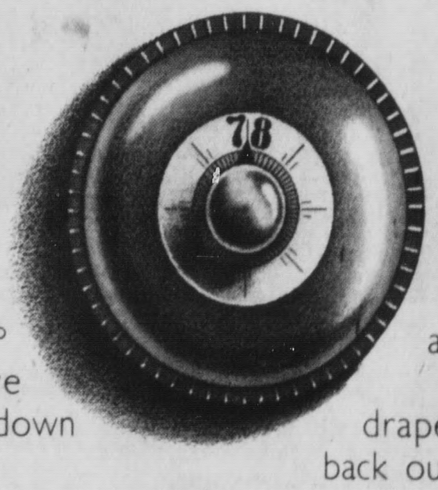
MAKE THIS THE SUMMER OF 78.



Keep the strain off your air conditioning-and off your budget-by setting your air conditioner thermostat at 78° this summer. You'll save energy, and help hold down your utility bill, too.

It only takes an inside temperature of 78° to feel pleasantly cool and comfortable. Driving the temperature down to 75° or lower increases energy cost by at least 10%.

A practical way to keep cool inside is by keeping heat outside. Check your attic to be sure your insulation is adequate ("R-19" standard) to keep summer heat out of your living space. And be sure you have good cross-ventilation, or an attic exhaust ventilator which can reduce attic temperatures up to 50° and greatly reduce the load on your air conditioner.

Hang your light-colored drapes to reflect sunshine back outside. Outside awnings, sunshades, or leafy plantings on the hot side of your house are even better at producing natural coolness in and around your home.

So set your central air conditioning at 78° (or use the "warmer" setting on room air conditioners) and mark the proper setting with pencil or crayon.

Plan now to make this The Summer of 78. You'll keep your cool and save money, too.

SAVE ENERGY · YOU'LL SAVE MONEY, TOO.

Calico Capers-Valley history's gain

Yvonne Peck was the 'greens goddess' at the barbeque.

Historical society president Bill Apperson chats with ALVHS member Tany Clark.

The Amador-Livermore Valley Historical Society's "Calico Capers" held Saturday night at the residence of Herb Hagemann of Livermore in spite of the coolness of the evening was a huge success.

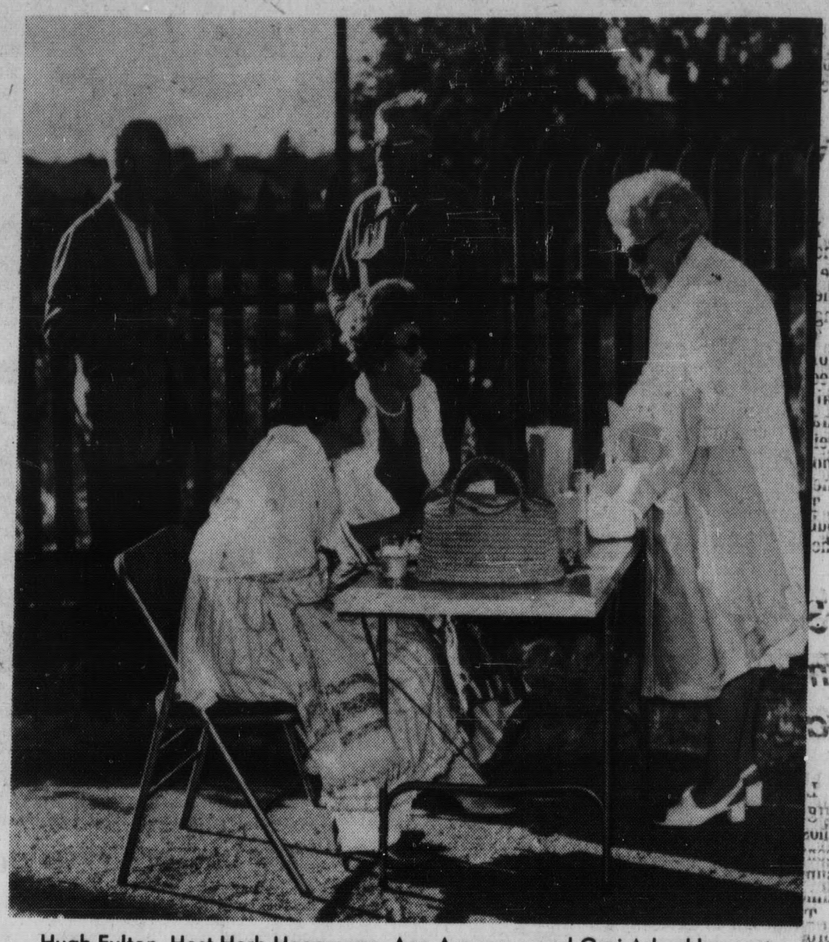
Approximately 165 persons were in attendance to enjoy the barbecue steak dinner, along with soft tunes of yesteryear for dancing.

"The Calico Relics Corner," featuring the cream of white elephants and a handicrafts booth, "Crafty Calicos," were popular spots throughout the evening.

The auction which had many interesting items of antique value, such as bone china, a bronze bowl, hand painted china pieces, spoons, back acks and framed pictures of landmarks in the Valley, was a success to the profit of $300.

This old fashioned steak barbecue was the last event of the season for the club.

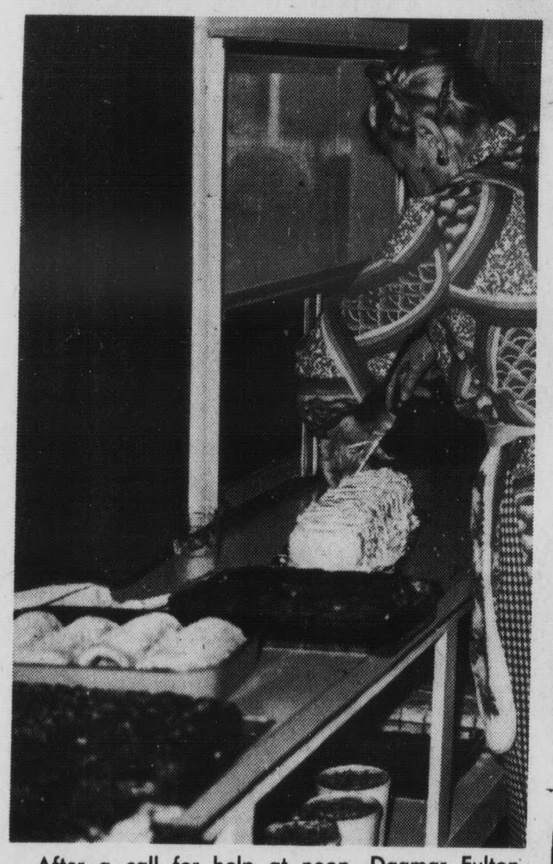
The next meeting will be held in September.



Hugh Fulton, Host Herb Hagemann, Ann Apperson and Geri Arbuckle greet new party arrival Olga Collier.

Elliott Dopking, Carmel Fannuchi and Alan Winslow

The bean pot bubbles over for Cook Evelyn Moller as Elliott Dopking makes off with a helping of hearty homemade.



After a call for help at noon, Dagmar Fulton whipped up four cakes to delight guests at the 6 o'clock event.

Cub Scouts open drive to help injured buddy

LIVERMORE - What do you do with those returnable bottles?

Do you pile them up in a corner of the kitchen, trip over them, write notes to remind yourself to take them back to the store?

When you keep forgetting them, do they begin to attract dust and flies, develop an accusing green cast, make you feel guilty and upset?

Or do they clank around on the floor of your car until they break?

End your returnable bottle psychosis today! Donate all of them to an eager group of Cub Scouts who will be glad to take them off your hands — and keep the deposit , of course.

The boys of Cub Scout Pack 923 will be ringing doorbells in the central and east side of Livermore this week, not for any ordinary fund-raising project but to help a buddy.

It's the best way they know to extend a hand to Jon Conaway, the eight-year-old scout who came close to drowning during a pack outing a few weeks ago and remains unconscious in critical condition at the Stanford children's hospital.

The Conaway family's medical expenses are estimated to be $1,000 a day . Working for nickels and dimes is the best way Jon's small friends know to do something for the family while waiting for their friend to recover.

A city-wide bottle drive has already netted the pack some $150.

Local residents who want to do more for the Conaway family are invited to contribute to a fund in the boy's name, at the Bank of America, Second Street, Livermore.

VMH directors get new quarters

LIVERMORE - Valley Memorial Hospital directors will be in new surroundings when they hold their monthly meeting Thursday night.

They'll convene in the new portable building that has been set up behind the hospital to house office staff. The main hospital building is being reorganized to make more room in some departments.

The meeting is open to the public and begins at 8 p.m. On the agenda are financial reports; building progress reports; administrative committee reports; information from the hospital auxiliary; statistical information and a report from the medical staff.

Dagmar Fulton is chairman of the nine-member VMH board and Dr. Richard Lutz is hospital chief of staff. Tom Andrews, hospital administrator, is also expected to be on hand.

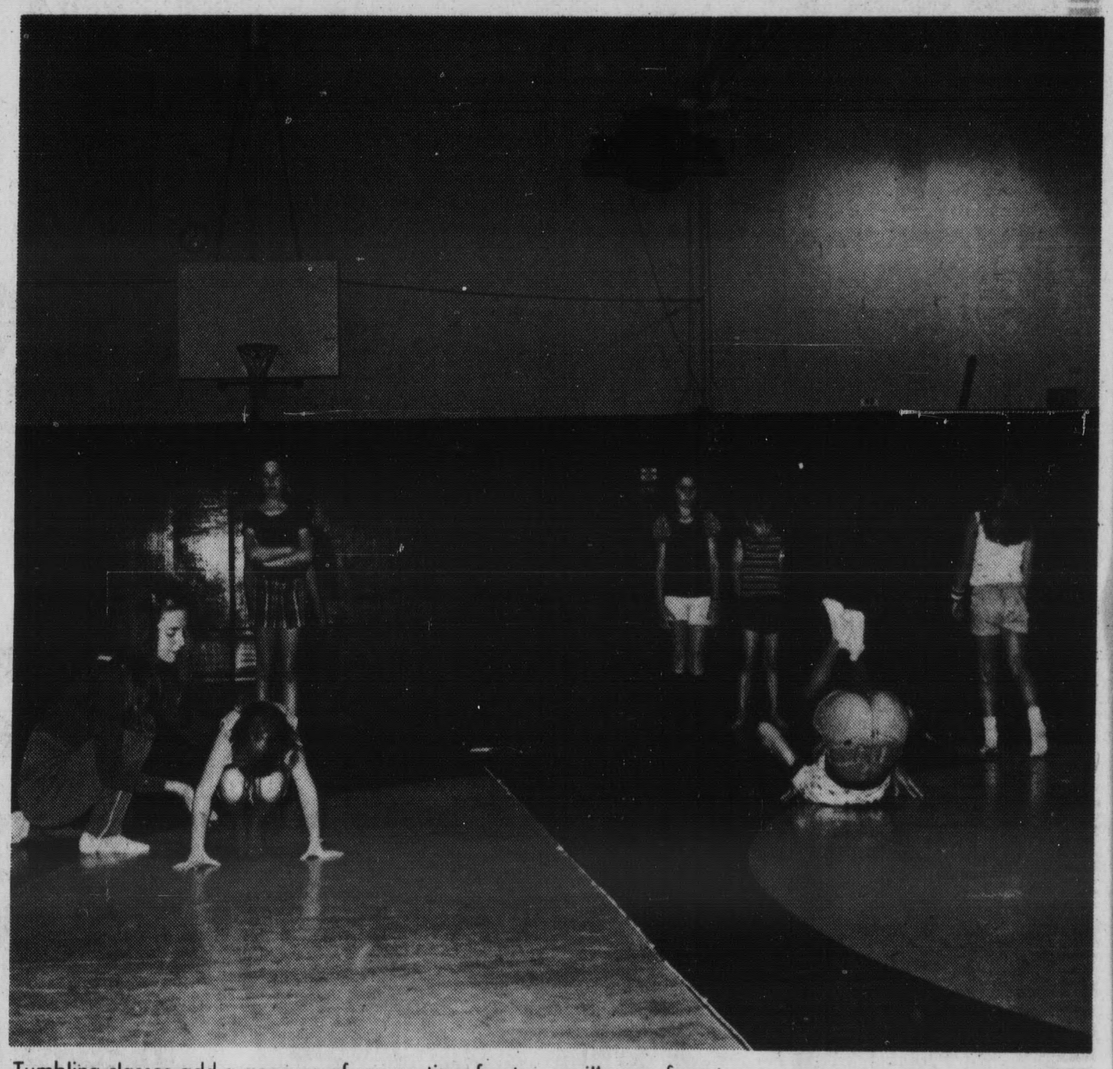
Pre-school program

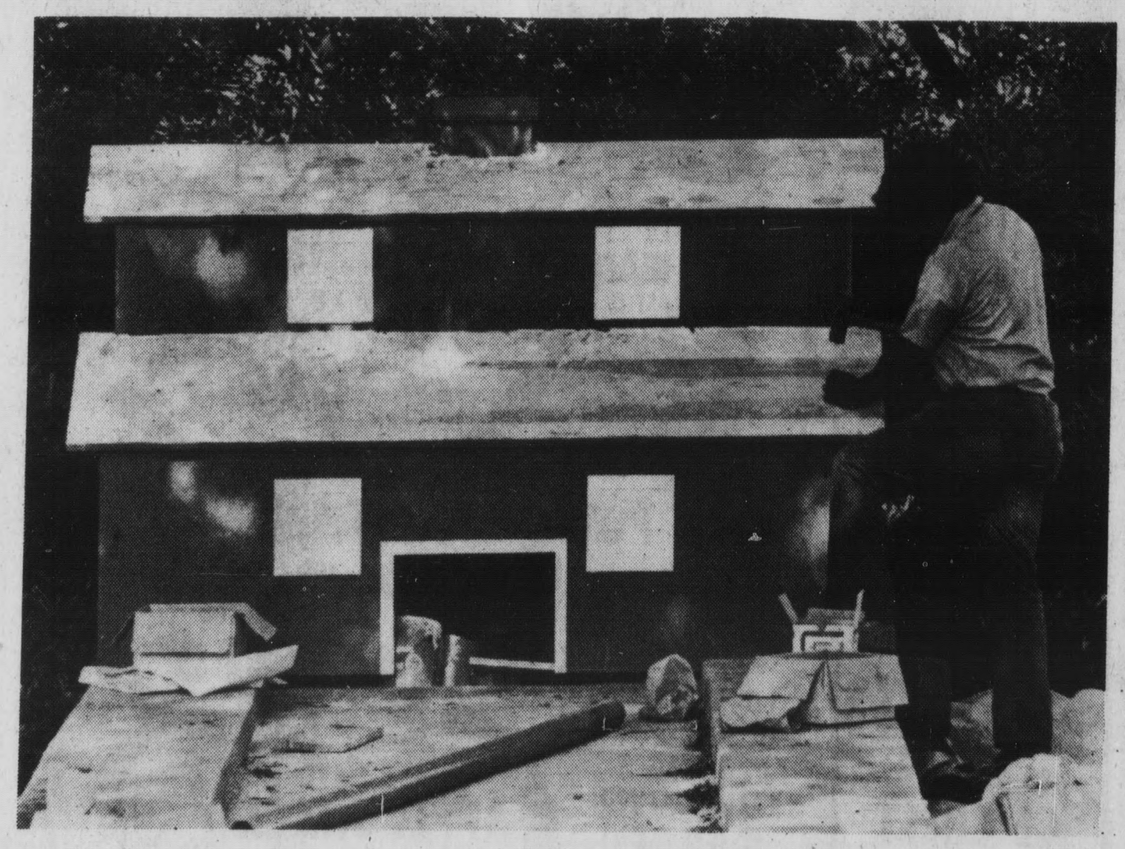
Beat the heat and boredom

Summer has arrived and the kids are out of school. Are your kids already bored and bugging you to death? Do you feel you want to get away from them and get them away from you? The Pleasanton Recreation Department may be able to help you solve your problem, beat the heat, bugging and boredom and have fun while doing so

A huddle for pre-school youngsters will set the schedule of play and projects during the next few hours. They are making their plans with a recreation department instructor.



Tumbling classes add a measure of summertime fun to these youngsters schedule and teach them skills they will never forget.



Mini course at Fairgrounds

The Pleasanton Miniature Golf Course, operated by Ronald Curtola, will open Saturday, June 28 for aficionados of the mini-links game. The 18-holes of fun is located just inside the main entrance (and to the left) of the Fairgrounds on Pleasanton Avenue. Tentative hours will be 12 noon to 10 p.m. daily. Above, Taj Mal completes work on one of "hazards" that will make the course fun to play. (Times Photo)

Blood flowing through CC: the pressure's on for more

By BRUCE LEWIS
Times Staff Writer

ORINDA—A driver for Yellow Cab of Oakland handed the brown envelope to a sheriff's deputy just east of the Caldecott Tunnel.

The deputy, carrying the package Code 2 (as fast as possible), arrived at Delta Memorial Hospital 30 minutes later.

The contents, three pints of AB negative blood, were for Ida Metz of Colorado, an accident victim.

She was critically injured Saturday night in an auto accident in Brentwood and placed in the hospital's intensive care unit.

When she began to hemorrhage, her doctor called the Alameda-Contra Costa Blood Bank with his rush order for blood the hospital lacked.

An hour later, the blood arrived at the hospital.

Thirty-four Bay Area hospitals depend on the resources of the blood bank to keep them supplied with the life - giving liquid.

But it's not easy, says blood bank spokesman Rich Farana.

He says the first three weeks this month there was a critical shortage of blood. A slowdown in volunteer donors combined with a heavy surgery schedule at the hospitals in Alameda and Contra Costa depleted the bank's assets to 763 pints. The ideal, says Farana, is 1,083 pints.

One of the blood bank's two mobile collecting stations will be at Pleasant Hill city hall, 3300 N. Main St., from 9 a.m. to3 p.m.

Farana says he hopes to replenish the bank's reserves with at least 35 pints from volunteer donors.

People 17 years old and with parental consent or 18 or older can donate blood.

Donors can join a family plan. One pint of blood entitles them to all the blood the family might need during the the next year.

Summer months are particularly critical, according to Farana. He says people just don't donate during June, July and August as they do the rest of the year.

Two patients last week alone used 130 pints of blood. "Those kinds of demands on the blood bank increase the need for blood donor recruitment," he said.

Part of the recent shortage is the result of the blood bank's all - volunteer system. Beginning May 1, the bank no longer paid for blood.

"We felt blood from a volunteer is safer than from the professional donor," said Farana. "We have made our blood drives a community program."

Mondays, Tuesdays and Wednesdays the mobile blood collecting stations are open to individuals. Thursdays, Fridays and Saturdays he collects blood from workers at companies and corporations and accepts donations from church groups and civic organizations.

"People should remember," says Farana. "The blood they donate will save a life."

For Tuesday, June 24, 1975

ARIES (March 21-April 19) You're more optimistic than practical about something you want to achieve now. Come down to earth, or miss the brass ring.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) Generosity is a virtue, but you could overdo it today by impulsively favoring the wrong people. Later you'll see your zeal was misguided.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) Your worst enemy today could be a well-meaning friend who'll try to let you in on a deal of grossly exaggerated value.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) You have a tendency to view things as you'd like them to be. Your rose-colored outlook will fool only you.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) A labor-saving method you'll consider today will only make more work for you. Use proven routines.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) If you want to play a long shot today, go it alone. Friends will be upset if you talk them into backing a loser.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) Don't promise just to keep peace in the family today. What you consider to be for the sake of expediency will be taken seriously.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) You're a good salesman today, but don't sell something unless you've tried it, and know that it works.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) Unconcern for your resources leads you to act extravagantly. You could end the day with a pain in the bankbook.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) Sometimes we can bluff and our bravado will get us by. But, today, you better have the cards if you call the pot.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) You're a bit too easygoing today. You don't have that better mousetrap. Don't expect the world to beat a path to your door.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) If you have a little surplus— ssh! Bragging to a friend may result in the loss of the surplus or the pal.

June 24, 1975

This year you'll become involved with a partner in an ambitious undertaking. It will work out if you're both aiming at the same target.

Irrespective of system some players will insist on playing the hand come hell or high water. They will not respect partner's sign-off bids.

When you are playing with someone of that type you have only one defense against trouble. You must pass before you get too high.

We can't really blame South too much for his repeated spade bids. He did have a seven-card suit and they don't show up every deal.

At the same time he might have seen signs of approaching trouble and quit at two diamonds. Not that there is anything inspiring about a two-diamond contract, but North might even have made it.

Then, when North jumped to three notrump, South might have passed. The contract would probably be three down, but no one had doubled North.

Still, South went on to four spades and when this got around to East there was a double. South might have gotten out for down two but somehow or other he landed three in the soup to give the opponents a nice, unearned 800 points.

Stevenson and Wolfe falter in State golf

PEBBLE BEACH — The horrors of Cypress Point Golf Course engulfed Pleasanton's Jack Stevenson yesterday, while famed Pebble Beach Links took its toll on Vic Wolfe of Livermore in the first round of the California State Amateur Championship.

Stevenson, a senior at Amador Valley High School, staggered to a 92, 20-over par, and virtually eliminated himself from championship contention at Cypress.

Wolfe, of Chabot College, limped in with an 83, 11-over, at Pebble Beach, and likewise is in danger of missing the cut Wednesday.

The second round of the tournament gets underway this morning for the state's 170 best amateurs.

Stevenson and Wolfe will switch off on the two picturesque Carmel Bay region courses.

It will be a welcome change of scene for young Stevenson, who played Cypress Point for the first time yesterday. He suffered through three triple bogies, four double bogies, and a murderous eight on the par-three seventh hole.

Jack added one birdie to that total, on the 477 yard par-five 10th hole

"I'll just go out for the fun of it tomorrow," Stevenson said after his dismal introduction to the State Amateur Championship. "I still had fun today, but I'm afraid to hit the ball on a tight course like this. I don't swing right."

That became obvious early in the round. Stevenson parred the first hole at Cypress, then sliced his drive out-of-bounds on the second.

The rest of the day Jack faced a succession of three-putts and disastrous sand shots. "It took me two strokes to get out of almost every trap," he moaned. "It's that fluffy, soft sand and I go right under it.

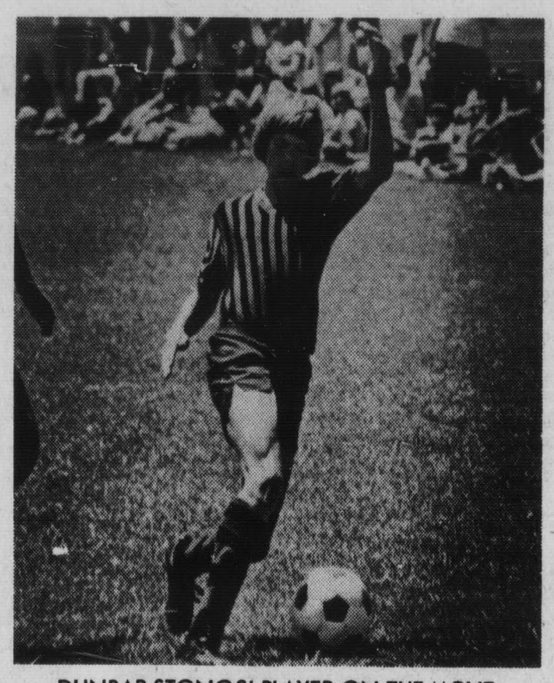
"I was actually hitting the ball pretty good," Stevenson said. "But I didn't know where to hit it. The ball would go where I wanted it to, but it always turned out to be trouble."

The low 64 scores after tomorrow's round will be eligible for a final round of medal play on Wednesday. Then the top 32 golfers will commence with match play until a State champion is crowned Saturday.

For the non-qualifiers, there will be a consolation match play flight.

The leader yesterday was Dick Runkle with a par-72 at Pebble Beach. Young Chris Clark of San Jose fired a one-over 73 at Cypress to tie Lou Garbutt for second.

Bob Pando, Brian Lindley, Ken Kirkpatrick and Clem Richardson all fired 74's. Tom Beck was alone at 75.



DUNBAR STONGS' PLAYER ON THE MOVE
Canadian visitors tied All-Stars, 1-1

Stongs, Dublin battle tonight

The Dunbar Stongs return to Aquatic Center in Pleasanton this evening at 6 p.m. for an exhibition soccer match with Ballistic United under-16.

The Stongs, British Columbia's top youth soccer team, opened their East Bay tour Sunday with a 1-1 tie against the District Three All-Stars.

They were scheduled to face Dublin United tonight, but the Uniteds were forced to back out when they couldn't produce a full team.

Ballistic United, which was scheduled to face Dunbar on Saturday, will fill tonight's void. A Watsonville side will be ushered into Pleasanton Saturday for the climax of the exhibition tour.

Tonight marks Ian Lang's second straight shot at knocking off the leaders of Vancouver's third division in the 15-year old bracket. Lang, who coaches Ballistic United, also guided the District All-Stars who tied Sunday's contest with just seconds to play.

Alex Basso scored for District Three on a fine assist from Jim Boulware.

The Stongs led 1-0 at halftime on a Shaun Mason goal. Warren Pow, a former Provincial Cup All-Star, notched the assist.

Dunbar has been perhaps the finest youth side in the history of British Columbia youth soccer. The team will play in Newark Thursday before returning to Pleasanton Saturday.

Bank bounces Covac

Pleasanton's First Bank team resorted to the long ball Sunday and dumped Covac of Livermore twice, 6-2 and 14-10 in Sr. Babe Ruth Baseball.

The winners smashed three home runs in the two games, five doubles and a triple. Of Pleasanton's nine hits in the opener, seven went for extra bases.

First Bank also won a Saturday contest from Covac, and the three-game weekend sweep vaulted the team to a 10-1 mark, and first place in the Alacosta league.

Rob Wicks pitched Pleasanton to the opening game triumph, stopping Livermore on six hits. Wicks struck out four.

The nightcap was an inelegant sluggers battle with Bob Koopman earning the pitching decision.

Pleasanton scored in the first inning of the opener on Mike Johnson's leadoff home run. Don Palmer stroked a home run in the fifth inning.

Greg Bellinger chased home two runs with a single, and Rich Hall lashed a run-scoring single. Wicks aided his own cause with a double that fetched a run.

Keith Texeira's single and shoddy defense by First Bank allowed Covac its two runs.

Brad Boldrini's three-run homer keyed Pleasanton's second-game triumph. Hall ripped a triple to knock in two more scores.

For Livermore, Dennis Lehew's two-run single sparked a six-run rally in the fourth inning. Mark Bevilacqua replaced Koopman on the mound for Pleasanton in that inning, and fanned two batters to end the rally.

Livermore scored four more runs in the fifth inning, highlighted by base hits from the bats of Texeira, John Janzen and Tim Duke.

Bud and Bruce get hot

Bud Earnshaw and Bruce Banks lashed consecutive run-scoring singles in the bottom of the seventh inning to hand Tri-Valley Heating and Air Conditioning a 3-2 win over Ideal Drayage in Livermore Slow Pitch Softball.

The Conditioners trailed, 2-1, heading into the last of the seventh inning, thanks to Dave Lynch's two-run homer in the fourth.

Cliff Ferria and Tony Flores, who scored the tying and winning runs, opened the decisive inning with singles. After an infield out and a walk to John Hilton, Earnshaw and Banks connected to end the contest.

Ferria was the winning pitcher with a seven-hitter. He was reached for the two-runs in the fourth inning when Wayne Emig cracked a leadoff triple, and Lynch followed one out later with his homer.

Tri-Valley took a 1-0 lead in the bottom of the first inning on Earnshaw's leadoff single and shoddy fielding by the Drayers.

Flores of Tri-Valley was the leading hitter with three singles.

Paul Marsh Shell smashed the Atoms Repairman, 12-4, scoring six times in the fifth inning. Bill Hahn drove in three runs for the winners with two singles.

Roy's holiday— a passing fancy

Had it not been for an unfortunate choice of tactics on the final lap of Saturday's international prep two mile , Roy Kissin reckons he'd be relaxing in Jamaica this week.

Instead, he's in Danville, quietly re-hashing the second place finish which fell eight tenths of a second short of the Caribbean trip awarded each winner in the Chicago meet.

Having run "more aggressively than ever" in the 97-degree heat and 90 per cent humidity, Kissin was in good striking position as he entered the final lap just behind eventual winner Carey Pinkowski of Hammond, Ind. and Don Clary of Anchorage, Alaska.

But at the top of the backstretch, with 330 yards to go, Roy's decision to swing wide and overtake Clary was of no use, as Clary chose the same time for a similar move on Pinkowski.

"It was more of a coincidence than anything," said Roy. "I couldn't get by Clary on the turn, either. I finally made it coming off the turn, but Pinkowski sprung for the finish, He's got great quickness, the ability to change gears whenever he has to."

The winning time was 9:05.4, with Kissin second in 9:06 2.

The field went out fast, but Roy laid slightly off the pace, cruising the first mile in 4:31.

"Then guys started to fall off, and I started nailin' 'em," reported Kissin. "With two laps to go, it was me, Clary and Pinkowski, in that order. We were hummin' with about 660 to go. Our second-to-last lap was 68.5, down from 73 the lap before."

Roy nearly didn't make it to the starting line, the result of a freak accident a few minutes before the gun. Jogging toward the line with international cross-country teammate Clary, he caught one of Clary's spikes in his ankle, only an inch from the Achilles tendon.

"Fortunately, it went straight in, rather than tearing much flesh. I was pretty worried, but it didn't give me any trouble once the race got going."

Williford-Crowley capture Livermore doubles title

Lee Williford and Emily Crowley won the Livermore Tennis Club Mixed Doubles Championship Sunday at Granada High School after defending champs Noel Anger and Don Smith were upset in the semi-finals.

Williford and Crowley defeated Mort and Marion Mendelsohn, 6-1, 6-1.

The Mendelsohn chopped down the defending titleists in a semi-final round Sunday, 6-4, 6-4.

Smith and Anger were top seeded. Williford and Crowley were seeded second. They defeated third-seeded Jerry Stunkel and Suzanne Russ in the semi-finals, 6-3, 6-4.

In the consolation finals, Dave and Charlotte Trimble defeated Bill Hetherington and Janet Rinta, 6-3, 6-1.

In semi-final play, the Trimbles downed Ted and Sylvia Knell, 6-2, 6-4. Hetherington and Rinta defeated Doug Hewey and Dave Mitchell, 7-5, 6-4.

Needy Neutrons

The Livermore Neutrons voted last week to enter the Amsterdam 700 Youth Soccer Championships in The Netherlands, if the team can raise $10,000 by August.

That much is needed for plane fare for the team that earlier in the month competed at the Junior National Challenge Cup in Milwaukee.

The Neutrons, under-19 champions of the United States' Western Region, would be one of 24 youth sides in the Amsterdam tournament. Others already committed come from Canada, Mexico, Venezuela and Australia.

The team will play at least three tournament matches, plus practice contests against the international field.

The Neutrons are embarking on a fund raising campaign to scare up funds for the three week trip beginning Aug. 2.

Those who wish to contribute may call 447-6861.

Five A's

Amfac bunched five singles into a sixth-inning rally last week that produced four runs and a 7-5 come-from-behind win over the Godfathers in Livermore Slow Pitch Softball.

Dave Paulas' single chased home one of the scores. The others were fetched on sacrifice flys by Al Lindberg and Rich Moreno.

Steve Nichols, who singled twice in three at bats, scored two of the runs for the Godfathers.

J. Chubb Insurance came up with two sixth-inning runs to defeat Livermore Station, 3-2. The Station rallied on Bob Cantrell's two-run homer in the seventh inning, but died shortly after that, stranding Dwayne Childress at second base.

Singles by Zane Thomas and Mike Gutierez keyed Chubb's sixth-inning outburst.

Associated Professions scored three times in the top of the 10th inning to stun Blair Foods, 10-7. Doubles by Dan Duke and Brad Santucci, a Bill Beyer single, and two bases on balls contributed to the winning rally. In the fourth inning, Beyer's triple drove in three runs.

Chuck Canfield drove in two runs for the winners.

Mike Fitzmaurice powered Blair with a pair of two-run home runs and a single. Mike Sorini had two RBI's.

World takes off

World Airways of Livermore nearly swept three games in Connie Mack Baseball last weekend, but left the finale on the base paths.

Livermore dropped an 8-6 decision to El Cerrito Sunday on the road, stranding 14 runners on the bases.

Saturday, World Airways defeated Berkeley twice at home, 5-3, and 10-2.

Left hander Mark Larson won the opener with a three-hitter. He went the distance. Dave Krikorian won the game for Livermore with a two-run home run in the sixth inning.

Will Biggs knocked in two other runs with a solo home run and a triple.

In the nightcap, World Airways scored five runs in the sixth inning to break open the contest.

Right hander Keith Richardson won that contest with a four-hitter.

Dave Spencer's bases loaded triple in the sixth inning was the big hit of the game.

Big League Vikings' burst fells Giants

The San Ramon Vikings exploded for six runs in the seventh and eighth innings to drop the Pleasanton Giants in Pleasanton National Big League play Saturday, 6-4.

Warren Van Wyck of the Giants had entered the final regulation frame with a one-hit shutout. Teammate Mike Connelly doubled and the Vikes Jim Edixon drove in a pair of runs.

The Pleasanton Jaycee Phillies came up with runs in each of the last two innings to take a senior league game from Romley's Market Padres, 5-3.

Glenn Hill walloped a home run in leading the Phils to undisputed possesion of the second half title.

John Hennesey's two run homer in the bottom of the sixth put the Jerry's Exxon Reds past the Braves, 8-6, and in a continuation game a similar blast by the Braves John Harris made for a split of the pair, 9-8.

Tony Peel's four RBI gave the Covey's Mobil Braves a 7-3 win in the opening game of the three-game Eastern Division championship series.

Bob Singleton's homer and outstanding relief pitching from John Boruk were not enough for the Giants as they lost to Valley Realty, 12-6.

Amador Linen came right back to edge Elby's Auto Parts Padres, 8-7, as John Mitchell (3 RBI) and Gary Kuntz homered.

In 3A play, the Giants took a 6-4 win over the Reds as Dan Mille tripled and Trino Victoria doubled. John Hyars swatted a two-bagger for the losers.

The Phillies, after being shut out on one hit for five innings by Jeff Jantzen, exploded for six runs in the top of the sixth to beat the Dodgers, 6-4, in a playoff contest. Mike Nostrand hit a three-run triple.

The 2A Dodgers outclubbed the Cubs, 16-12, as both Dvid Irish and Dino Inzerillo doubled, the latter for two runs.

Irish and Jeff Pappas each had three RBI in the next game as the Dodgers toppled the Reds, 11-2. Pappas doubled twice.

Livermore National

Ben Breazeale crashed his ninth home run of the Livermore National major league season Saturday sparking Air-Con Services to a 6-0 triumph over C. Ridolfi Painting.

Breazeale holds down the league lead in homers. He also doubled in three at-bats against Ridolfi.

Bob Allen and Mike Funk each drove in two runs for Air-Con. Winning pitcher Marshall Martinez blanked Ridolfi on a four-hitter.

Country Market managed to score three runs in the final two innings to trim Emperor's Garden, 4-3. Keith and Kevin Grijalva each slapped two hits for the winners. Kevin was the winning pitcher. Jim Donnell drove in one of Country's runs.

The Elks battered Sunshine Greeting Card, 10-4, helped by the eight-hit pitching of David Criss and Larry Cullens. Terry Paddock paced the Elk offense with three singles and three RBI's. Steve McKenzie, Tim Zimmer and Cullens all had two hits. Zimmer drove in two runs. Sunshine's Joe Moyle had three hits, and Mike Ott doubled twice, driving in two runs.

Palomart's Mike McCarn pitched a five-hitter to drop the Eagles, 6-1. McCarn struck out 10 in going the distance. Jeff Bennefeld stymied two Eagle rallies with fine catches in right field.

Crocker's changing banking.
How about higher interest on passbook savings?
Crocker's changing banking

Your 2¢ worth just got you 5%

Starting July 1, Crocker will pay a full 5% interest on regular passbook savings. And it's in response, in part, to your letters.

A couple of months ago, we asked for your ideas about changing banking. Time and time again, people wrote back asking for higher interest on savings.

Well, we got the message, so you're getting 5%. To be compounded daily and paid quarterly.

If you deposit by the tenth of July, you'll earn from the first. And since your money starts earning from the day of deposit, that means you'll actually earn 5.13% annually.

No California bank pays more.

And to make it as easy as possible for you, just bring in your old, underpaid passbook and we'll save you a trip to your old bank.

Top artists to exhibit at Fair

Many of the Bay Area's finest artists will be exhibiting their works at the Alameda County Fair in Pleasanton starting Sunday, June 29.

Noting that "the standard of works is by far the highest in my ten years as fine arts department head," Marilyn Murphy attributed the evolutionary progress of her department to "the growing importance of the Alameda County Fair as a showplace of contemporary art in Northern California."

She added that there are many new artists showing at the Fair this year, including some from as far away as Southern California.

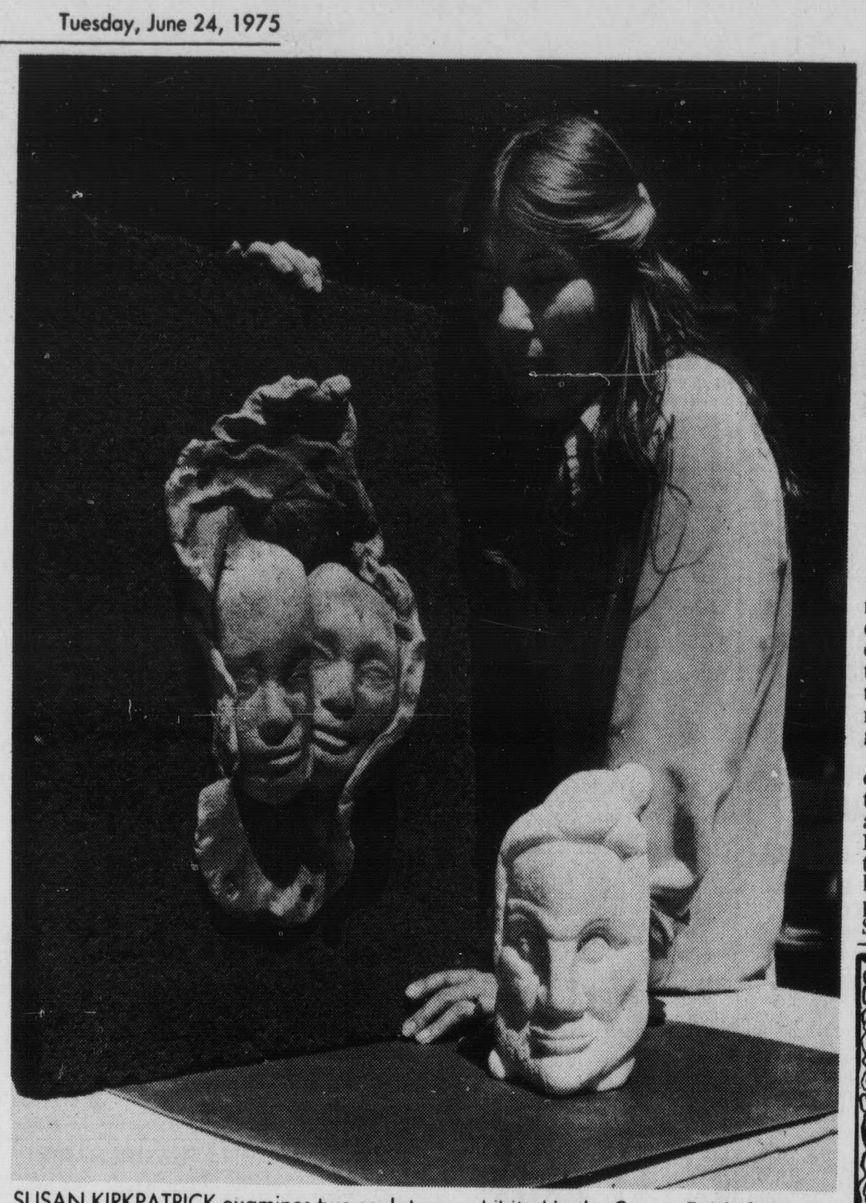
Some of the valley winners at the last exhibit included;

Karen Desper, Pleasanton, "Abandoned," Watercolor—still life or portrait; Merilyn Calhoun, Livermore.

Parade film at chamber

PLEASANTON- Color movies of the "Good Times" parade held in May will be shown today at 12 noon at Hap's Restaurant on Neal Street.

The film is approximately one-half hour in length and highlights the parade put on by KNBR Radio along the streets of this city. The program will be part of the weekly Chamber of Commerce luncheon and is open to the public.



SUSAN KIRKPATRICK examines two sculptures exhibited in the County Fair's fine arts exhibition. The works are "Two Faces," left, by George Franklin of Hayward, and "Mask of Stone," by Paul Curran of Oakland.

Bilingual, school lunch

Education bills clear senate

SACRAMENTO- Two bills designed to fill holes in state educational needs in the areas of bilingual education and school lunch programs have cleared the Senate finance committee and are now on the Senate floor for further consideration before going to the Assembly.

The bills are authored by Senate Democratic floor leader George Moscone of San Francisco and San Mateo counties. Both bills would require a majority vote on the Senate floor.

Senate Bill 7 is designed to meet the edict of the Supreme Court in developing the language, reading and communication skills of student who have limited English speaking ability. It mandates a bilhngual-bicultural program ir schools where there are 10 or more students in a school at the same grade level whose primary language is other than English. It also provides state support and teacher training for the program.

The State Department of Education has estimated that there are about 225,000 such students in California schools....students whose education currently is severely hampered by their inability to communicate in English.

The school lunch bill, SB 120, contains an appropriation of nearly $18 million in added state support for school lunch and breakfast programs.

"We have found that there is a direct link between the ability to learn in the classroom and the nutritional well-being of school children," said Moscone. "In addition, we know that there are up to one million California pupils who are nutritionally deficient or actually hungry. This money would help those school districts who are threatened by the high cost of food to stay in the business of serving nutritious food to school children. Without it, the schools will have lost an important opportunity to feed these children and to thereby provide the proper backdrop for a good classroom learning experience," concluded Moscone.

Kilkare lot split goes to county

SUNOL - Alameda County's new 100-acre minimum requirement for rural lot development will be tested when the county zoning administrator is asked to approve two residential buildings on a single 100-acre parcel.

E.C. Redepenning is the owner and O.G. Schneider is the option holder of the land at the northern terminus of Kilkare Road. Their application for subdividing into two lots will be heard on July 2, 2 p.m. at the 399 Elmhurst Street in Hayward.
